

Postscript: I Know, I Know, it seems too good to be true. Or perhaps this video is some kind of silly spoof on the many outrageous and mostly ineffective ways to prevent catching a cold or flu. But, I assure you dear viewer and reader I'm totally serious about this, as in Life and Death serious. Yes, I'm just an old out in the boondocks college drop-out/ farmer/artist in up-state New York. I'm no PhD and I'm not a paid researcher out of UCLA, John's Hopkins, or even the so called, final word: CDC (Center for Disease Control). It's somewhat of a mystery as to what has held the many heavily funded medical institutions back from the good news of the power of Iodine. Perhaps the phrase, well founded, has something to do with that. Maybe this is a skirmish between Small Farmy and Big Pharmy. To be sure, knowledge and use of the "Iodine Shield" and the resulting major drop in sickness from colds and flu would indeed cut deep into the obscene profits of Big Pharmy. The promise of good health and relief from pain and suffering should never be used as a lever to rip your neighbor off! I give you the "Iodine Shield" for FREE. Now that you know about it will you simply just wash your hands more often, to meager effect, when the next deadly Influenza Pandemic hits? Or take useless ultra high doses of vitamin C or wear an only superficial gauze face mask that has no real ability to filter out the almost molecular in size viruses you would breathe in from a nearby infected person's cough or just exhaled breath?

As far as testimonials: I have friends who have done the Iodine Shield thing for numerous years with colds and flu nearly vanishing from their families with no negative side effects from it. I have quizzed more than one family doctor about the use of Iodine this way and have been told it sounded like a good idea and wouldn't hurt you at any rate. None refuted the fact that Iodine is the best antiviral and antiseptic of all time.

I invite any and all to comment on this video and if there is something missing or flawed about the Iodine Shield break through, I'll be pleased to be informed.

Yours Truly,
JOHN COFFER
March, 2020